

And now for something completely different.....

Transforming challenging interactions in medicine into intriguing moments of growth with the magic of reflective writing

Dr Hilton Koppe, a GP from Lennox Head, NSW and an experienced workshop facilitator, is presenting a writing workshop which will help transform challenging patients into interesting people, and challenging interactions into interesting experiences. It will awaken the curiosity of participants to look at our work in a fresh light.

The workshop will allow participants to experience the use of stories and writing as a means of helping them to better manage some of the more challenging aspects of their working lives, and to gain a deeper understanding of what it means to be a doctor, health professional, educator or supervisor of training.

The workshop has been designed to reduce professional isolation, burnout and compassion fatigue.

Most of all, it will be an opportunity for some light hearted fun with colleagues, so please bring along humility, a sense of curiosity and a pen. No previous writing experience is required.
